How to find Your Animal Sign

In order to find your correct animal sign, as well as understand why the Chinese calendar begins in February, and not January, it is important to have a little understanding of the two different Chinese calendars. As with most things Chinese, we look at the Yin and Yang. In Chinese timekeeping, there is a Yin Calendar (Lunar calendar) and a Yang Calendar (Solar calendar).

The Lunar Calendar

The Lunar calendar is perhaps the best known and most popular of the two. Chinese Lunar New Year is frequently celebrated with a lot of pageantry. It is used in one type of Chinese Astrology called Zi Wei Dou Shu, and also in Yi Jing calculations.

The Solar Calendar

The Solar calendar is less well known. The early Chinese meteorologists attempts to gain insight into the cycles of the seasons. From this study, this developed the Solar calendar. This calendar is used in the form of Chinese Astrology called Four Pillars, as well as in Feng Shui. The Chinese were very accurate in their studies. Without computers, and using only observations, they mapped a solar year of 365 days. They missed the actual timing of a year by only 14 minutes and 12 seconds.

The solar year is divided into 24 solar terms. Each lasts about fifteen days. Spring Begins (lichun) is the name of the first day of Spring, and the first solar term. It is exactly midway between the winter solstice and the spring equinox. This is why it always falls on February 4th or 5th. We begin the five elements with wood, so the Chinese New Year begins with a wood month, whether in the Lunar or the Solar calendar. These concepts are derived from the Yi Jing.

一萬年太久
祇爭朝夕

一萬年太久，祇爭朝夕。

Ten thousand years is too long,
we should seize today.

How to find your Animal Sign

To find your animal sign, start with your birth date. If it is before February 4th (Spring Begins), use the prior year for the Chinese calendar. If it is after February 4th, then use the same birth year. If it is on February 4th, then you need the time of the birth to accurately determine the birth animal. This information is contained in the Chinese Ten-Thousand Year Calendar. (The American Feng Shui Institute has one available as an ebook at www.amfengshui.com). In the following pages, the birth years are listed for each animal, but remember, if your birthday is before February 4th, use the previous year to determine the animal.

FORTUNES OF THE 12 ANIMALS

The Dog

1934, 1946, 1958, 1970, 1982, 1994, 2006, 2018

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

In 2018, the Dog's career and money luck alternates between good and bad. Change can be uncomfortable for the Dog, but if you recognize that transformations can ultimately be in your favor, adapting will be easier. There may be only a few opportunities but stay alert and be ready to take full advantage so you can make them count. A lot of unseen changes are in front of middle-aged Dogs. Direct your energy to areas in which you have the most expertise. People born in 1982 will have good opportunities in sales, writing, and related to the entertainment industry. Your personality and impact on your surroundings will be in top form. You should be able to promote your ideas and plans successfully. Dogs born in 1970, who are bosses may encounter betrayal or misunderstanding from close partners. Beware of "petty people" - backstabbers. Be patient and humble to avoid conflict. Money luck is like a bouncing ball - up and down. Watch out for unexpected consuming and try to avoid being carried away by expensive plans and activities. Be particularly cautious in the months that run from February 4th to March 4th and August 7th to September 7th. Health-wise, it will be easy to have some sort of bleeding condition; therefore, avoid risky sports, climbing high, and cuts. In romance, Dogs will be quite emotional, easily aroused to argue, and may lose control. Those who are single should refrain from fantasizing too much about love. Yet, it is a good year for Dogs born between August 7th and September 7th. Romance frequently signals good fortune.

The Pig

1923, 1935, 1947, 1959, 1971, 1983, 1995, 2007

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

In 2018, the Pig will see new opportunities. The male Pig has better luck than the female Pig because the Tai Yang star is shining above. It brings good money-making opportunities for the self-employed. This is a lucky year to start any one of your plans to achieve long-term goals and lay a firm foundation for the future. Unexpected rewards are in store for salaried workers. If you are thinking of changing jobs or striking out on your own, this is a particularly good time to do so. While the Pig's money luck is good, the rewards will only come from the effort you put into your work, not as the result of a windfall. There are some obstacles to overcome from March 5th to April 4th and between January 6th and February 3rd of 2019. Pigs will generally be healthy during the Dog year. The circulatory system and urinary tract may give you some problems. Those born in winter should watch out for robbery or break-in disasters. Where romance is concerned, since the Tian Xi star is shining above, cherish all the romantic opportunities you will be given. If you are attached, you will find more excitement in your current romance. If you are unattached, a fruitful relationship will come your way this year. August 7th to September 7th is the ideal time to get married. This is also a year when married Pigs can easily have a baby. Married or attached Pigs born in the summer months (June, July, August) will find it easy to have a third-party intruder in their relationship.

The Rat

1924, 1936, 1948, 1960, 1972, 1984, 1996, 2008

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

The Dog year is basically stable for the Rat. In career, you should put in more time and hard work. Obstacles in the beginning can be overcome and will ultimately benefit you. However, in business dealings, pay more attention to your relationships with people. Do not try to set your expectations too high or you will be spreading yourself too thin. Remember that too much self-esteem will lead to negative results. Extra care must be taken when dealing with anything in the months of May and December. Keep alert and do not take risks if you are doubtful. Overall, things will be relatively peaceful for you. Be wary of trouble from colleagues or subordinates. Rats will be quite busy both physically and mentally. In the springtime, tact and tolerance are needed to avoid friction with a co-worker or someone close to you. Money luck is average to good. Some unexpected consuming cannot be avoided. In health, common complaints this year are insomnia, mental stress, cuts, and digestion. Observe good eating habits. Where romance is concerned, the Rat's relationship with a loved one will alternate between good and bad. The good news is that relationships progress faster than expected, or even march forward to a wedding chapel. The bad news is that disputes with your love will occur frequently. This is especially true with married Rats born in 1960 and 1984. Be more communicative with your partner. He or she needs your care and understanding.

The Ox

1925, 1937, 1949, 1961, 1973, 1985, 1997, 2009

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

The Ox will find that 2018 is rather auspicious. Career will be smooth sailing during June and July. You can see benefits and profit from your hard work. For salaried workers, a job promotion is possible through your own efforts, and you may think about moving to a better place. Be careful when making new friendships, as you may have to deal with people who frustrate you and consume most of your physical and emotional energy. Though money luck is average to good; the rewards will come from the effort you put into your work, not as a result of a windfall. It is advisable not to act as a guarantor for others in March and May. Therefore, be careful of overspending and watch out for your wallet during the months of May 5th to June 5th which are the most inauspicious months for the Ox. Refrain from gambling or financial speculation. In health, there are no signs of major problems. This year your common complaints are headaches and allergies. Watch out for stress and ailment of the limbs. Romance is not as stable as your career and money luck. Your relationship with a prospective life partner may be plagued by quarrels, so watch how you behave and speak. You could be tempted to get involved in a secret love affair or to engage in illegal behavior. However, if you are cautious and select the right companion, these problems can be avoided. Married Oxen born in 1973 and 1985 should be wary of third parties breaking up the marriage.

The Tiger

1926, 1938, 1950, 1962, 1974, 1986, 1998, 2010

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

The Dog year has mixed fortune for the Tiger. Whatever you do, no matter good or bad, think twice. The Tiger will have a year of changes taking place faster than they can imagine. People born in 1962 and 1974 can expect considerable rewards in career, and students born in 1986 and 1998 can expect academic results. Good luck coupled with hard work at the right time will bring about substantial gains. As for salaried workers, there are very few opportunities to develop their potential. This is not a good time to change jobs. Tolerance is the keyword. Money luck for the Tiger is average to good this year. Yet, money is difficult to keep and save while it easily goes out. Be careful of overspending and unexpected expenditures. Financial losses can be prevented with careful judgment, but not with arrogance. Avoid attending funerals or visiting the sick, for it brings bad luck in the form of financial loss or illness. Better luck is in store during the summer months. Do not go into partnership with anyone born in the Rooster year. Stress and insomnia are two health problems you should watch out for. The Tiger can easily become inattentive and moody. You may get tooth aches or experience discomfort in your digestive system. In romance, your true love has yet to appear and your chances to meet someone special are slim this year. Married couples should be wary of the intrusion of a third party; Tigers born in 1962 should be particularly cautious of this.

The Rabbit

1927, 1939, 1951, 1963, 1975, 1987, 1999, 2011

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

With the auspicious stars Yue De and Shan He shining above, good fortune awaits the Rabbit in the Wu Xu Dog year. It will be a year of bountiful gains for the Rabbit. In career, a dream is beginning to come true right before your eyes. Business affairs should speed right along this year. There is no holding you back from success. Cooperation helps you get ahead in business. Joint effort is particularly fortunate; two heads are better than one and two pairs of hands can double production. Do not allow negativity to affect your good luck and keep all your moves simple and straightforward. There is a sign of backstabbers. Keep low-key and humble to avoid jealousy from others. Good luck is foreseen in money matters. Although money luck is good, there is a sign that you are likely to chalk up unnecessary expenditure, so try to budget wisely and avoid gambling or risky short-cut investments. Health is average to good, although you may occasionally experience minor joint pain, insomnia, or migraines. Where romance is concerned, though you will date quite a lot, it is difficult to differentiate a sincere relationship from one that is not. Therefore, stay rational and refrain from being overly-serious in relationships. Separate romance from work to prevent others from taking advantage of you. There is danger for married Rabbits born in 1963 or 1975 of getting involved in a scandalous affair.

The Dragon

1928, 1940, 1952, 1964, 1976, 1988, 2000, 2012

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

Because of the Sui Po or year breaker for the Dragon, overall this year indicates that you should not be overly optimistic. Things will change beyond your control. Life changes, whether pre-planned or unexpected events, will affect your career or business whether you are a salaried worker or self-employed. Work will take double the effort to receive a single gain. Money luck is not what you expected; it is difficult to keep and save, while it goes out easily. Be careful of over-spending and unexpected expenditures. Stay away from gambling. Don't do any risky activity so that you can avoid legal trouble. Conflict with others will arise frequently. Sugarcoat your words and use soft tactics when dealing with difficult situations. In career, success and failure both come easily. Give full attention to whatever you are working on this year. Do not trust anyone blindly lest you get cheated. Be especially cautious about signing documents. Read all the fine print first and be sure you understand what it means. Change plays a major part in every aspect of your career this year. Money comes easily and goes easily too, so be prepared for the worst. There is a need to budget wisely. In health, the physical discomfort you will feel is caused by your moodiness. Those born in 1940 may have to undergo surgery. In romance, the Dragon will be quite emotional and easily fight with a loved one over trivial matters. This may lead to separation. The best way to avoid this is to be patient and do not nitpick or argue.

The Snake

1929, 1941, 1953, 1965, 1977, 1989, 2001, 2013

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

With numerous auspicious stars shining above, this is an excellent year for the Snake to embark on a new career. 2018 promises to be fruitful for the Snake. Your career will soar to great heights, bringing you wealth and fame. Investments will prove to be most rewarding. You can see big benefits and big profits as a result of your hard work. The busier you are, the more benefits for you. Expand your social circle to give your career an extra boost. Make full use of the year to strive for what you want. With hard work at the beginning of the year, you will enjoy good results at the end of the year. The self-employed should take an active stance, such as going overseas on working trips, for it will help advance your career. However, salaried workers may find themselves being ostracized by their colleagues. Those born in 1965 and 1977 should be wary of what they say to avoid unnecessary trouble. There are two minor inauspicious stars mixed in with the auspicious stars; therefore, playing safe is still the best policy. Avoid excessive spending. Common health complaints for the Snake are insomnia and stress brought on by overwork. Those born in 1953 should refrain from climbing high. Watch your step to prevent accidents. Chance romantic encounters are plenty. For a single Snake, an interesting love life awaits you this year. A certain relationship may lead to marriage, so treat it seriously. Married Snakes should pay more attention and spend extra time with their partner in order to prevent a third-party intruder.

The Horse

1930, 1942, 1954, 1966, 1978, 1990, 2002, 2014

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

The Horse will sail through the Dog year without any hitches. This is an excellent year to push ahead with personal plans. A career switch will bring about good results. Money prospects are particularly rewarding. Good luck coupled with hard work will bring about substantial gains.

Whatever you tried without success in the past should be reversed with a totally new approach this year. The career will be smooth sailing. Though you will meet with a lot of competition and pressure in your work, luck is on your side. It is a year for making plans or learning something new. However, the Horse should not be too ambitious to avoid ending up with nothing. There are signs of hidden danger and sorrow for Horses born in 1966 and 1978. They will encounter backstabbers and find it easy to arouse misunderstandings with friends and relatives. Avoid squabbling with others, especially in late autumn and early winter; it will be a losing game for you. As for money luck, salaried workers will have more stability than the self-employed. If you are a salaried worker, you may discover a new source of income. Health-wise, there are no serious problems. But take preventive measures against the flu in winter, and watch out for sprains in summer. Where romance is concerned, the Horse will be quite emotional and easily fight with a loved one over trivial matters. Married couples will have a lot of quarrels this year, so take care to control your temper if you don't want a relationship to break up.

The Sheep

1931, 1943, 1955, 1967, 1979, 1991, 2003, 2015

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

The Sheep will find the Dog year with neither signs of danger nor major breakthroughs. Try not to set your expectations too high or you will be spreading yourself too thin. Resist new requests until you have fulfilled commitments already scheduled. Since the auspicious stars, Fu Xing and Tian De, shine above along with the inauspicious star Gua Su, the Dog year holds different fortunes for career luck and love luck for people born in the year of Sheep. Where career is concerned, luck is auspicious and smooth for everything you plan. Most projects will hit the target. Money luck is strong, with big gains and small losses. For males, living abroad luck is unstable: it appears like a good year, but there is bad hidden in the good. There are signs of conflict in career and a lot of confusion in dealing with things. Be careful of being cheated and be cautious of scandals, lawsuits, and money losses. This is not a year to consider something new or co-operate with others. As for money prospects, you may chalk up unnecessary expenses or suffer financial losses between the months of November 7th and December 6th. Health-wise, you may occasionally suffer from stress or moodiness, though, you are generally in good health. Due to the inauspicious star Gua Su shining above, it will be fruitless to search for romance because of things beyond your control. Married couples should be careful of a family revolution- a breakup of the family.

The Monkey

1932, 1944, 1956, 1968, 1980, 1992, 2004, 2016

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

This year, the Monkey's fortune alternates between good and bad. Be practical in whatever you do. Salaried workers and the self-employed should act within the confines of their own abilities. Do not trust anyone blindly lest you get cheated. You will find it more rewarding to do everything for yourself. This is an unstable year, a time of floating and sinking. You will encounter obstacles in career and confusion in love. Where career is concerned, your gains will not be proportional to the effort you put in. Be patient and tolerant. Take baby steps, as there is no big leap this year. You must persist in taking the initiative and be decisive to make the Dog year gainful. Otherwise, things will go downhill for you. A number of obstacles and setbacks await you in spring. However, luck will improve in the latter half of the year. This is a good time to learn something new. Reserve your energy and be well-prepared for a more auspicious time when better opportunities will come. With money luck, do not have too many lofty dreams or take short-cuts for risky investments. Health-wise, watch out for eye diseases and heart related problems. The elderly in your family need to be especially careful, as the Monkey may be in mourning this year. Romance for single Monkeys will be up and down or blow hot and cold. You could experience mood swings but it could also be exciting! Married Monkeys should refrain from squabbling, which may lead to separation.

The Rooster

1933, 1945, 1957, 1969, 1981, 1993, 2005, 2017

Note: The New Year begins February 4th

Danger lurks for the Rooster in the Dog year because of a number of inauspicious stars shining above the Ming palace. Your luck is inconsistent. Obstacles stand in the way of your career. Salaried workers may find themselves ostracized by their colleagues while the self-employed may encounter obstacles and setbacks in business. Stiff competition lies ahead for you and make you feel a lot of pressure at work. Regarding money prospects, think carefully before you invest in anything. Money luck is not what you expected; stay away from gambling. There is a danger sign of getting involved with legal problems. Don't do any risky activity to avoid legal trouble. Health-wise, you will feel busy physically and mentally. To prevent accidents and injuries to your limbs and head, stay away from dangerous sports and avoid scaling heights. A frightening experience awaits you if you go out late at night. One of your family members may fall ill in the spring or early summer, so he or she will need your special care. Those born in 1957 and 1969 should refrain from visiting the sick or attending wakes. Where affairs of the heart are concerned, it is not going to be smooth sailing this year. Take an active stance, such as going on overseas for a working trip as this can put you in a fruitful relationship. For married couples, be loyal to your loved one; don't attempt to hunt for Peach Blossom, otherwise there will be regrets.

LIU REN

LIU REN (六壬)(小六壬)

1. Great Peace
2. Back & Forth
3. Hastening Happiness
4. Red Mouth
5. Small Auspiciousness
6. Empty & Lost

Calculation:

When something out of the ordinary spontaneously happens, you can determine the meaning of the omen with Liu Ren.

Here is the calculation:

1. Use the left hand. Start in position 1, Great Peace (大安 da an) and always move clockwise.
2. Count clockwise through the six positions for today's lunar month. The Great Peace position corresponds to the first lunar month. (Refer to Ten-Thousand Year Calendar page at the end of this Guide. Find today's date, then read the month number at the top of the column).
3. Count the position found in Step 2 as the first day of the lunar month. Count clockwise through the six positions to today, the current day of the lunar month. (Find today's date in the Ten-Thousand Year Calendar page, then read the day number on the side at the end of the row).

4. Count the position found in Step 3 as the first double hour. Count clockwise through the six positions to the current double hour.
5. Look up the interpretation of this palace on page 44 - 45.

Hour Table

Hour	During Standard Time	During Daylight Savings Time
1	11 pm - 1 am	midnight to 2 am
2	1 - 3 am	2 - 4 am
3	3 - 5 am	4 - 6 am
4	5 - 7 am	6 - 8 am
5	7 - 9 am	8 - 10 am
6	9 - 11 am	10 - noon
7	11 am - 1 pm	noon to 2 pm
8	1 - 3 pm	2 - 4 pm
9	3 - 5 pm	4 - 6 pm
10	5 - 7 pm	6 - 8 pm
11	7 - 9 pm	8 - 10 pm
12	9 - 11 pm	10 - midnight

Note: for 11 pm to midnight during standard time, use the next day's date. For example, if it is 11:15 pm on February 12th, then count it as February 13th.

Example: July 15^h, 2015, 5:30 pm

- A. Start in Position One.
- B. July 15th is in the column that says 5th month at the top.
So we go to Position Two.
- C. July 15th is the 30th day of the 5th month.
- D. Start where we left off in Position Five and call that 1.
Count clockwise to the 30th position from there: Position Four.
- E. Start in Position Four and count for the hour.
- F. During Daylight Savings Time, 5:30 pm is the 10th hour. Count 10 positions, with Position Four and call that 1, and end up in Position Two.

This is the outcome:

Position Two is Back and Forth

Read the interpretation on the next page and apply it to the situation.

Example: You arrive at the airport, but your ride is late to pick you up. You use Liu Ren to find out what is going on.

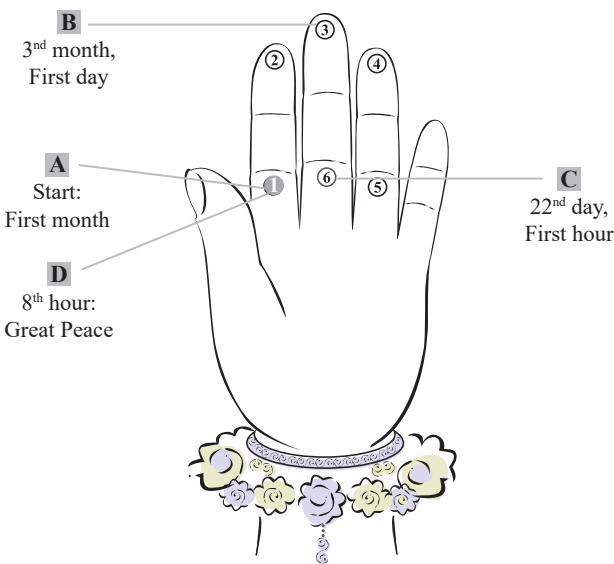

Today's time and date: May 10th, 2015, 2:30 pm

- A. Start in Position One.
- B. May 10th is in the column that says 3rd month at the top.
So we go to Position Three.
May 10th is the 22nd day of the 3rd month.
Start where we left off in Position Three and call that 1.
- C. Count clockwise to the 22nd position from there: Position Six.
Start in Position Six and count for the hour.
Standard Time, 2:30 pm is the 8th hour.
- D. Count 8 positions, with Position Six as the beginning, and end up in Position One.

This is the outcome:

Position Three is Great Peace

Read the text and apply it to the situation. Great Peace begins with “The person you expect has not left yet.” Your flight had arrived early. You wait calmly for 30 minutes and your ride arrives, at what would’ve been on time.

Makes the Universe Work for You

We live in a universe that is filled with different energies. Our planet rotates on its axis, creating cycles of day and night. The earth also revolves around the sun in yearly cycles and is subject to various gravitational and magnetic fields. Our solar system is moving through space and is also subject to other forces in the universe. These physical forces and many different time cycles affects us profoundly. The Chinese have spent centuries observing the effects with their environment. This is the science and art of Feng Shui (Chinese geomancy).

Feng Shui uses observation, repeatable calculations and methodologies, and is based on the study of the environment, both inside and out of the house. Feng Shui can help you determine the best home to live in, which colors can enhance your home, the best bed positions for deep sleep, and how to change your business or home into a center of power. Feng Shui can help improve your health, your relationships and your prosperity. It is based on a complex calculation and observation of the environment, rather than a metaphysical reading relying on inspiration or intuition.

The American Feng Shui Institute publishes the annual Chinese Astrology and Feng Shui Guide so that both the Feng Shui professional and layperson can benefit from the knowledge of the incoming energy cycles and their influences. With this knowledge, one can adjust their environment to make it as harmonious as possible for the current year.

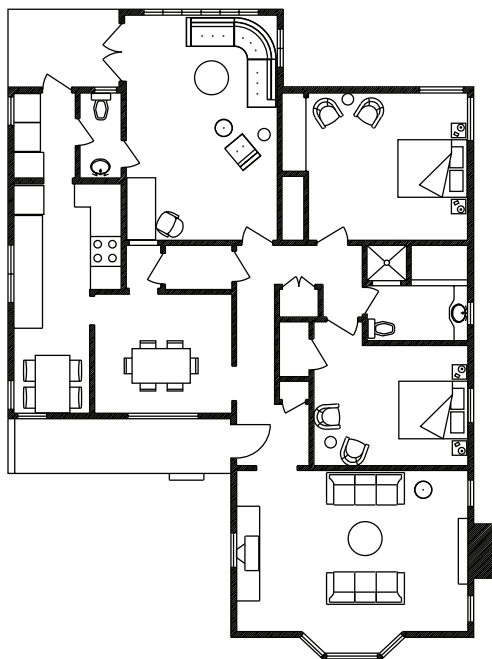

The following sections contain the energy patterns for the current year with an analysis and remedy for each of the eight directions. For the nonprofessional, there is a section on how to prepare your home for this reading. Please note that Feng Shui is a deep and complex science that requires many years to master. Preparing your home to receive the annual energy is one aspect that anyone can apply. A professional reading is recommended to anyone who wishes to receive the greatest benefits possible that Feng Shui can bring.

Preparing your home for a Feng Shui reading

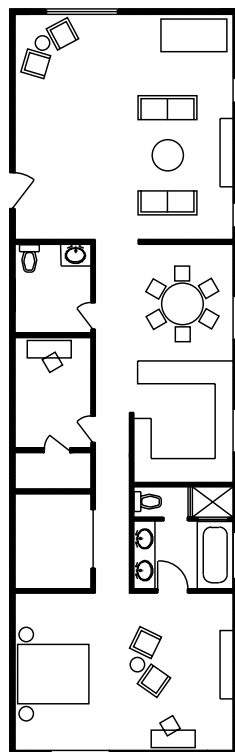

The Floor Plan

The first requirement for preparing your home for a Feng Shui annual reading is to create a proportional floor plan. This plan can be hand drawn or be the original building plans, as long as the plan is proportionally correct. It is not necessary to draw in all your furniture except perhaps noting your bed and desk. It is important that you indicate where all window and door openings are.

Example A Floor Plan

Example B

Preparing your home for a Feng Shui reading

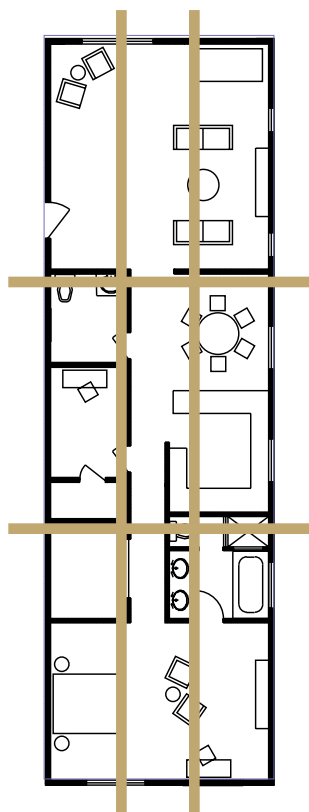

Gridding The Floor Plan

Once you have your floor plan drawn, you then overlay a 9 - square grid. This grid is proportional to the floor plan. If it were a long and narrow house, so would the grid be long and narrow. You want to divide the floor plan into equal thirds both top to bottom and left to right as shown below:

Example A
with Grid

Example B
with Grid

The Compass Reading

The next step is to determine the alignment of your house with the earth magnetic fields by taking a compass reading. It is very important to take an accurate reading and not guess the orientation based on the direction of the sun or a map.

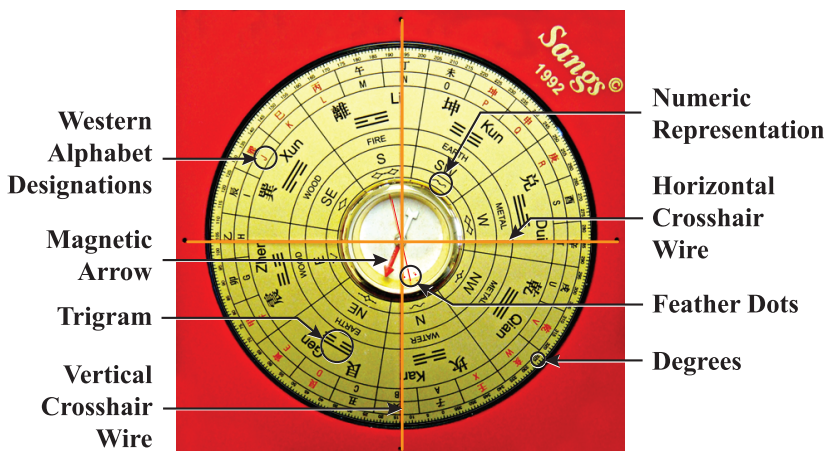

Why Do You Need To Use A Compass?

In Feng Shui, we look at the eight cardinal and inter-cardinal directions: East, Southeast, South, Southwest, West, Northwest, North, and Northeast when analyzing a home or building. Each of these directions hold unique significance to these building. If you do not use a compass to determine the correct orientation, you might completely misread your home. You cannot map the qi within the building without an exact orientation. It is similar to finding your way out of a forest without a compass. You have a high probability of getting lost. Without a compass, it simply is not Feng Shui.

A Compass vs A Luopan

You can use any compass if you do not have a Luopan. The Luopan is simply a Chinese compass that helps determine the sitting direction of a building. It also contains a wealth of information on its dial that is used for more advanced applications. In recent years, Master Larry Sang simplified the traditional Luopan specifically for training Western students. Although it looks simple compared to an original Luopan, it has all the tools you need to accurately analyze a building. An important fact to remember about a Luopan is that it points to the South. The following information and instructions apply to a Luopan, however, if you are using a Western compass these concepts are easy to adapt.

SANG'S LUOPAN

Parts of Sang's Luopan

The Magnetic Arrow - The arrowhead points South rather than North. Western compasses point North.

The Feather Dots - (The twin dots at the center of the rotating dial). Always adjust the rotating (gold) dial to align the twin dots with the feather end of the arrow.

The Numeric Representations - The innermost ring has a dot pattern that represents the Trigram's numbers. For example Kun has two dots and Qian has six dots.

Crosshair Alignments - The red crosshairs designate the facing and sitting directions. Once the arrow is steady and the feather end is aligned over the north twin dots, you can determine the sitting direction and the facing direction.

The Eight Trigrams - The Eight Trigrams are the basis for orientation in Feng Shui and are shown on the Luopan with their perspective elements, symbols, and directions.

Western Alphabet Designations - Each Trigram is divided into three equal parts. These parts are shown with both their Chinese symbols and using the Western Alphabet.

The Degrees - Outermost on the dial are the Western compass degree in Arabic numerals.

General Guidelines for using the Luopan:

To use the Luopan or compass correctly, remember the following guidelines:

1. Always stand straight and upright.
2. Do not wear metal jewelry or belt buckles that can skew the compass.
3. Avoid any electrical influences such as automobiles or electrical boxes.
4. Always stand parallel to the building.
5. Keep your feet square below you.
6. You can keep the Luopan in the lower box case to manage it better.

Taking a reading with the Luopan:

With the general guidelines for using a luopan in mind, now you are ready to take a reading to determine which wall or corner of your home is located closest to the North.

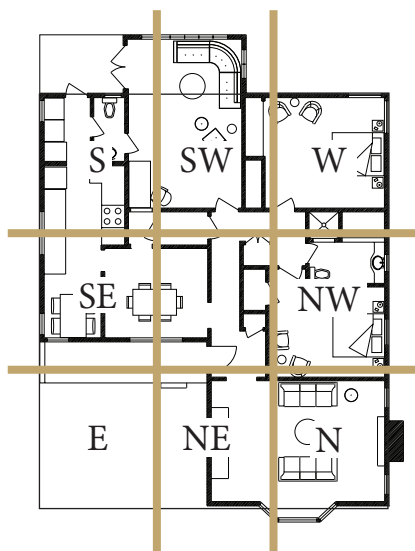

1. Take your reading outside, standing parallel to your home with your back to it. Stand straight and hold the Luopan at waist level. Wait until the arrow ceases to quiver.

2. Slowly turn the center (gold) dial so that the North/feather dots align with the feather of the arrow. If using a Western compass, turn the compass so that the needle's arrow end aligns with north (between $337.5^\circ - 22.5^\circ$).

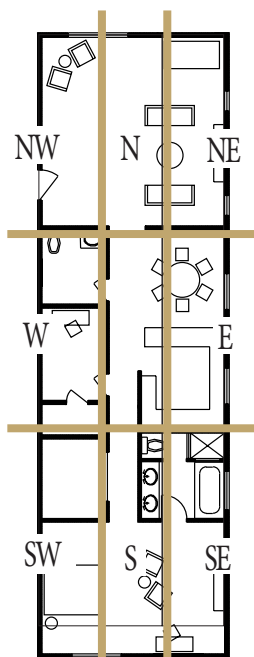

3. Please take at least three separate readings from other positions. If you find that there is a discrepancy, take various readings at various locations until you are sure which one is correct. One direction should stand out as being correct.

4. Indicate on your floor plan which section is North. Fill in the other directions as illustrated. Please note that North can lie in a corner section.

INTRODUCTION

While this diagram may look foreign to the beginner, it is essential information for the experienced Feng Shui practitioner. Each year the qi pattern brings different effects. Some of these effects are quite auspicious and favorable and some may be inauspicious and not so favorable.

The effects of the 2018 energy pattern are analyzed for you in the following pages. Each analysis contains suggested remedies or enhancements for each section. Remedies are recommended to reduce negative Qi. Enhancements are recommended to increase beneficial Qi. These remedies or enhancements consist of the five elements: wood, fire, earth, metal, and water.

To use a remedy or enhancement, it must be placed inside the house within that particular section. If more than one room exists within a section, then each room needs to have its own remedy or enhancement. Any exceptions will be noted.

The Center Section

Center

Analysis

In 2018, the 9 Purple You Bi Star visits the center. This is a star that could be good or bad. It depends on how we make use of it. We are currently in Period 8, which is known as the 8 White Zuo Fu Star and is earth element. As a result of the productive relationship between 9 Purple (fire) and 8 White (earth) in the center, we can predict that the global economy slightly growth can be expected. This year is beneficial for talented youthful leaders to take over the position of aging authorities.

Period 8 corresponds to Gen trigram in the Yi Jing. Gen represents the mountain. The 9 Purple Star represents Li trigram (Fire). Fire above Mountain forms hexagram 56, Lu. The meaning of this hexagram is “Traveling: on a journey, only minor undertakings go well.” Slightly growth this year reflects a synchronized improvement across both advanced and emerging market economies. The world economy continues to face a number of downside risks. They include increased protectionism, heightened policy uncertainty, the possibility of financial market turbulence, and, over the longer run, weaker potential growth. The image is a vivid one: Fire is spreading across a mountain. This is a dangerous sign for fire-related disasters such as earthquakes, forest fires, or terrorist bombings. People will experience global hyperinflation ahead. All the governments around the world can do very little about it.

This makes the east section not so beneficial for break through in business and job or career switches. There is also the potential of leg injuries or throat discomfort if someone stays in this area more than eight hours per day.

Remedy

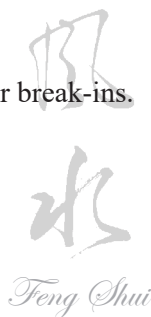

Use water element as a remedy in this sector. A fountain or aquarium in the east will help to change the poison into medicine.

DAY SELECTION

DAY SELECTION

Introduction to Day Selection

Day Selection has been used for a long time in China. Every year, almanacs would be published giving the best days for important activities, as well as days to avoid. It is thought that a positive outcome is more likely when an activity is begun on an auspicious day. In English, we talk about getting things off to a good start, but have no particular methodology to do this.

There are three aspects to selecting a good day: picking a day that is good for the activity, avoiding a day that is bad for the activity, and picking a day that is not bad for the person(s) involved. In the calendar pages that follow, each day will list two or three activities that are auspicious or inauspicious on that day. If you wanted to pick a date to get married, you would first look for the days that were considered good for weddings. In addition, you need to check the birth information of the bride and groom. If the bride is a Rabbit and the groom is a Rat, then you also need to avoid any days that say Bad for Rat or Bad for Rabbit, even if they are good for weddings in general.

In addition, there are some days that are not good for any important activity. Usually this is because the energy of heaven and earth is too strong or inharmonious on those days.

Day Selection is used for the first day of an activity. It does not affect a continued activity. For example, you should begin construction on a day that is good for ground breaking, but it is not a problem if the construction is continued through a day that is bad for ground breaking. The construction need not be stopped.

On the next page are definitions of the various activities included in Master Sang's Day Selection Calendar.

AS A STUDENT OF THE AMERICAN FENG SHUI INSTITUTE:

You will receive a certificate of completion from the American Feng Shui Institute, for the Beginning/Intermediate and Advanced Feng Shui Classes. Please do not confuse this certification as licensing, as there are no requirements for practitioner at this time.

As a student of the Institute, we are available to assist you with your studies. We have an online Bulletin Board for questions and answers, featuring a topic search. You will obtain access to the Bulletin Board upon completion of the Advance Feng Shui class. Due to the complexity of the courses, graduates may repeat in the classroom that you have already taken, pending available seats. Please see our online course catalog for the most current course offerings.

CANCELLATION AND REFUND POLICY:

All institutional charges shall be returned to the registrant less a $50.00 US cancellation fee, if cancellation notice is received prior to or on the first day of instruction. Any notification of withdrawal or cancellation and any request for a refund are required to be made in writing.

Refunds shall be made within thirty (30) days of receipt of the withdrawal or cancellation notice and refund request.
